The News stated, two weeks since, that neither Bob Davis nor Captain Broward were sulkers—that the defeated candidate would loyally support the victor. The News knew what it was talking about. Only "small fry" sulk and cuss out the successful rival. Bob Davis and Captain Broward are not in this class. Listen to what Colonel Davis says: I trust the bitterness of the campaign will now be forgotten and that the Democrats of Florida will be united in the active support of the nominees from United States senator, congressman and governor, to the humblest county nominee. Let all talk of dissatisfaction cease. Let our delegates to the national convention go feeling that they have a solid state Democracy behind them, and let us hope that the next president of the United States will be a Democrat. As the phrase of the day goes, let us now get together."

The Atlantic Coast Line has placed orders for a million dollars worth of new rolling stock, which will be ready for use by the next tourist season.

Jacksonville city authorities contemplate rounding off the corners of curbs, which would widen street corners about ten feet or more. Our Florida streets should be twice as wide as they are.

Democrats should not be led astray by Socialists and Republicans. Forty-five thousand men who took part in nominating the county and state Democratic tickets, virtually pledged themselves to support the nominees, wherever they happened to be, they have given their word of honor to vote for the men nomiinated. The November election will prove how many men the state of Florida has who will stand by their word.

Will H. Stevens has purchased a half interest in the Daytona Halifax Journal, the only self-confessed Republican newspaper in the state of Florida.

A friend of Gorman claims that the senator has 300 silent votes pledged to him at St. Louis. All air, all air!

DEATH OF A CHILD.

Daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Hobson Accidentally Killed.

From the Jacksonville Metropolitan, Friday.

A most distressing accident happened last night which has completely shocked the community, and which resulted in the death of Mary Kate, the beautiful and talented 6-year-old daughter of Rev. W. A. Hobson, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. Hobson, with his wife and son Frank, and Mary Kate, attended a reception at the home of Frank Johnson, in LaVilla, which was given Dr. Hobson prior to his summer vacation. The reception was largely attended and was an event that caused the Hobson family much happiness, yet it ended in an unfortunate accident that has caused the life of a pet of the household.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, Frank and Mary Kate and Miss Brannon, a visitor here, got into the automobile and started homeward. While coming east on Adams street Dr. Hobson saw the street car on Bridge street coming towards Bay.

The auto could not be stopped in time to prevent a collision, and seeing the impending danger, Dr. Hobson gave the lever a quick jerk which suddenly turned the auto towards Bay street, at the same time throwing Mary Kate, who was on the rear seat with Miss Brannon, directly in front of the street car. Before the motor-man could realize what had happened the car had crushed the little girl to death.

Jumping from his auto Dr. Hobson rushed to the mangled form of his daughter, and his grief beggars description. Strong men who witnessed the horrible accident wept bitterly. With grief stricken cries the pastor picked up the crushed body and rushed into Bradley's drug store, at the corner of Bridge and Adams streets, when Drs. Elmore and Thompson were summoned, but the little girl was then beyond all human aid.

Mrs. Hobson had sustained such a nervous shock that she required the attention of physicians, as she was on the verge of prostration.

After much difficulty Dr. Hobson was taken from the dead body of his child and placed in a carriage with Mrs. Hobson and Frank and taken to the parsonage, where many friends gathered to offer consolation, but to no avail. The parents were frantic with grief and all night long they paced to and fro through the parsonage, giving vent to the great sorrow they had sustained.

Mary Kate was loved by all who knew her. She was a little girl who had taken part in the entertainments of the church and was a decided favorite. She was a child of remarkable beauty and lovable manner.

How to Make Zwieback.

Dissolve half a yeast cake in a cup of lukewarm milk and stir this into two quarts of flour. Let it rise for about an hour. Add then one cup of sugar, one cup of butter, two eggs and a pinch of salt, cinnamon to taste and a pint of warm milk. This may be half water. Work all together as you would bread and let it rise again. When risen make it into a long, thin loaf. Let it rise once more and bake. The next day cut the loaf into slices and let them dry in the oven. If this is put away in jars it will keep for a long time.

How to Remove Fish Scales.

The marketman does not always scale fish thoroughly. A cloth wrung out of cold water and dipped in cornmeal is excellent for removing the last scraps of scales. Rubbing ducks and geese with cornmeal after plucking them is also advised. The down disappears like magic.

How to Make the Cheeks Red.

Do not attempt to gain red cheeks by the use of rouge. Give them a daily cold bath and rubbing with a coarse towel. Take a great deal of exercise in the open air; breathe deeply; keep the digestion in good order by a wholesome diet of meat, vegetables, fruits, good bread, cereals and milk. Be energetic in all that you do. The cheeks will brighten as the result of this healthful living.

How to Polish Stair Rods.

Tarnished stair rods are easily cleaned. Wash them with soap and water and then polish with a slightly oiled cloth dusted over with finely powdered cotton starch.

Short Session Circuit Court

CIRCUIT Court met on Monday. Judge Minor S. Jones presiding, with State Attorney J. D. Beggs, Clerk Samuel D. Jordan and Sheriff John R. Turner at their customary stations.

A grand jury was summoned to investigate the alleged murder of Mrs. Frank Brown by her husband, which occurred at Glenwood in the spring. The following jury was empaneled: S. B. Wright, J. H. Gentry, E. F. Oates, H. F. Lungren, William Best, T. N. Page, J. L. Nuckolls, H. J. Wilmshurst, W. C. Watts, A. H. Woodall, H. W. Mann, W. A. Rush, Albert Turner, S. A. Wood, T. E. Eccles, Robt. Reid, M. Lafollett and G. E. Berry. Mr. Wright was elected foreman and E. B. Posner sworn in as bailiff. The jury investigated the homicide and returned "no true bill."

This was the only matter to be brought before the grand jury, the members of which were then paid off and discharged.

The civil docket was probably the smallest ever known in this county. Cases were disposed of as follows:

E. E. Ropes vs. Vanderpool, continued.

E. E. Ropes vs. E. F. Shore, assumption; verdict of $200.75 rendered in favor of complainant.

E. E. Ropes vs. Thomas Nesbitt, continued by consent.

E. L. Powe, graduate of the Law Department of Stetson University, was, on motion, formally admitted to practice before the Circuit Courts of the state.

J. E. Alexander vs. J. A. Scarlett, non-suit entered.

The court issued an order eliminating from the town of Ormond all fractional parts of Sections 10 and 11, Tp. 14, R. 32, which had heretofore been taxed by the incorporation.

Court adjourned yesterday afternoon.

The following petit jurors were summoned for the term: Rod Groover, John Welsh, G. N. Dozier, B. F. McCorkle, J. H. Gentry, M. G. Rowe, W. D. Haynes, Matt Lafollett, A. H. Ryland, J. M. Chaffer, R. D. McDonald and Albert Turner.

Georgia's New Model Vagrancy Law.

The Georgia legislature tackled with commendable vim and vigor the vagrant problem, something which deeply concerns every Southern State. The new measure is much more stringent in its definition of what shall constitute vagrancy than former acts which it was designed to supplant. Under its provisions any person who is strolling idly about, who has no property to support him, is a vagrant. All persons leading an immoral life who are without property, and are able to work, and do not work; professional gamblers and persons having a fixed abode who live by bartering stolen property are likewise in the vagrancy class, says the Jacksonville Metropolitan.

Under the former law persons with no visible means of support were vagrants. The new law defines "visible and known means of a fair, honest and reputable livelihood" as "reasonably continuous employment or a fixed income from property."

All able-bodied persons found begging, or who quit their houses and leave their families without means of subsistence, are likewise declared vagrants.

One of the amendments adopted happily parallels a provision of the defeated child labor bill. It provides that all persons who are able to work but who are supported by the labor of minor children, shall be regarded as vagrants. A righteous provision!

Justices of the peace are empowered to issue warrants for the arrest of persons suspected of being vagrants.

The bill provides that the punishment for vagrancy shall be the same as for a misdemeanor.

Florida has a vagrant law, but it is indifferently enforced. Occasionally some prowling negro is scooped in by it in the larger cities, but to white males nor females of either color are disturbed in their lazy and worthless existence.

Word's Fair Letter From Ward Gould

ST. LOUIS, JUNE 14 1904.

DELAND NEWS: The Louisiana Purchase Exposition is the biggest thing of the kind up to date. Until one becomes accustomed to it, the immense show is bewildering and discouraging. No one need hope to do the fair thoroughly in a few days. When you consider that there are four miles of aisles in the Agriculture building, and this is only one of the many buildings you feel it necessary to go through you can form some idea of the undertaking. And yet it pays, for it is an education in itself. One would have to travel all over the world to see what is displayed here in one enclosure.

Almost every country of importance has contributed of its arts and sciences; commercial and educational methods of the civilized world are demonstrated here, and there are exhibits of agriculture, minerals, fish, birds and insects from every civilized country. Every process of manufacture is shown from the crude material to the finest product in many different lines. One can here see every phase of development in the history of the human race. In the Philippine villages you see native women tediously weaving their cloth by hand, while in the Varied Industries building the finest fabrics are being turned out by the most improved machinery. But there is no use in attempting a description, one must see to understand and appreciate it.

There is one thing which strikes a visitor from Florida and that is the absence of any kind of an exhibit from his own state. Almost every other state and territory in the Union even to our distant island possessions is represented, but the only thing I have seen accredited to Florida, is the model of a yellow fever detention camp in the government building.

I feel that Florida has made a mistake in not being represented. While we may not have been justified in the expense of putting up a state building here we should at least have an exhibit. Florida could make a display which would be of more interest to the general public than that of any other state of the Union and at comparatively little expense and trouble.

A live alligator would attract more attention than does the governmentadium exhibit. Our tropical plants and fruits are things which have never been seen by most people visiting the fair and could not but be of interest to them. It is unfortunate that we have not taken advantage of this unusual opportunity to let the people of the world know of the resources and advantages of our famous state.
